What does this document contain?

The purpose of this Financial Services Guide (FSG) is to assist you in deciding whether to use any of our services by providing you with important information about the types of services we provide, how we and other relevant persons are remunerated, our interests and associations, and details about your rights should you have a complaint about the advice or services we have provided to you.

It is important that you read and understand this FSG. Should you have any questions please contact us to discuss them.

This FSG comprises the following documents, which must be read together:

Part A – Practice Profile (this document)

Part B – Advisor Profile

Where we provide you with a financial service, you may receive a Statement of Advice from us, which sets out our personal advice to you. You may also receive a Product Disclosure Statement which sets out information about a financial product you can acquire. These documents are explained in more detail in the following pages.

In this document any reference to “the licensee” or “we” or “us” or “our” means Partners Wealth Group Financial Advice Pty Ltd (Partners Wealth Group Financial Advice), Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) number 558563. Reference to “financial advisor” means an authorised representative Partners Wealth Group Financial Advice.

Moore Wealth Management is a related entity of Partners Wealth Group Pty Ltd. Moore Wealth Management does not provide financial services or financial product advice. All financial services are provided by Partners Wealth Group Financial Advice Pty Ltd and its authorised representatives.

Not Independent

Generally, we provide personal advice in line with the Licensee’s Approved Product and Services List (APSL) which may include financial products and services associated with the Licensee. We may receive commissions from life insurance products we recommend and non-monetary benefits such as training and educational seminars from product providers. For these reasons, we are not considered independent, impartial, or unbiased.

Who is responsible for providing you with advice and services?

We hold an AFS Licence (AFSL) issued by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC), which enables us to offer financial advice services. As the licensee, we are responsible for the delivery of the services provided by our financial advisors.

The Partners Wealth Group story began 20 years ago when our founders had the foresight and ambition to bring together a unique group of professional partners combining distinct talents, financial experience and creative insight.

The advice and services our financial advisors are authorised to provide may differ, according to individual areas of expertise, training and focus of their roles. The FSG Part B Advisor Profile explains who your advisor is, and the services they can provide.

We act on our own behalf when providing the financial product advice services we are authorised to provide. When we deal in financial products we act on your behalf as our client.

The role of Moore Wealth Management is to arrange for the licensee to provide financial services to you. For clarity, Moore Wealth Management is not an authorised representative of the licensee and does not provide financial services to you or accept any liability in relation to them. Moore Wealth Management receives a fee or commission for its part in arranging for the licensee to provide financial services to you.

Our advice and services

Our AFSL permits us to deal, and provide financial product advice, in the following areas:

- Basic deposit products;
- Non-basic deposit products, such as term deposits;
- Debentures, stocks or bonds issued (or proposed to be issued) by a government;
- Life products including investment life and life risk insurance products;
- Interests in managed investment schemes including investor directed portfolio services;
- Retirement savings accounts;

- Superannuation; and
- Securities, including direct equities.

We can provide specialist advice and services in the following areas:

- Wealth creation;
- Risk protection;
- Superannuation strategies and retirement planning;
- Estate planning;
- Wealth structuring and tax planning;
- Budget and cashflow management; and
- Centrelink and other government benefits.

Not all of our financial advisors can advise on every one of these areas, and some may be restricted to providing advice and services in only some of the above areas.

Additionally, our advisors are all registered to provide Tax (Financial) Advice services. Based on the information collected from you, your advisor will consider the tax consequences of the financial advice they provide. However, this financial advice will not include a full assessment of your overall tax position or your tax liabilities and obligations. You should seek specialist tax advice from your accountant.

Services we cannot provide

Services that cannot be provided under our AFSL include:

- Derivatives;
- Personal advice relating to acquisition, development or disposal of direct property. Advice relating to direct property acquisition or investment will only relate to the investment strategy of an investment in property, such as asset sector allocation, cashflow and capital expenditure budgeting; and
- Credit advice, such as the arranging of a loan or the taking of credit. We may refer you to a broker that can assist with such matters.

Who are our financial advisors?

Our financial advisors are all Authorised Representatives of Partners Wealth Group Financial Advice and receive a salary, with no portion of the fees you pay, or commissions we receive from life insurance providers, paid to them. They may be eligible to earn a bonus based upon a balanced scorecard comprising various performance metrics including compliance. The Financial Services Guide Part B explains who your advisor is, the areas they can provide advice in, and how they are paid.

Information we require to provide you with appropriate advice

We need full details of your personal objectives and needs, your current financial situation and any other information that is relevant to your reasons for seeking our advice. If you provide us with either incomplete or inaccurate information, the advice you receive may not be appropriate, and you would need to assess this, and accept the consequences for your own actions in light of your true circumstances.

As a business operating in Australia, we are required to adhere to the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (the Privacy Act), which regulate the collection, storage, use, and disclosure of personal and sensitive information. Information about how we comply with the APPs can be found in the Privacy Policy available on our website or you can request a copy from us through any of the contact details on page 1 of this FSG.

How will we provide our advice to you?

Personal advice will be provided in writing, in a document called a Statement of Advice (SoA). This document sets out your personal circumstances and your needs and objectives, and then explains the resulting strategy and recommendations. The SoA will also, among other things, tell you about:

- The basis on which the advice is given;
- The cost of the advice including the fees payable and any commissions we may receive; and
- Any associations we have with financial product issuers or other parties which may have the potential to influence the advice we give you.

If there hasn't been a significant change to your personal circumstances any further advice may be provided to you in a Record of Advice (RoA). A copy of the RoA may be issued to you at the time the further advice is provided. You can request a copy of an RoA by contacting us using any of the contact details on page 1 of this FSG up to 7 years after the advice was provided to you.

Where our advice recommends a financial product, we will provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). The purpose of a PDS is to assist you to make an informed decision about whether to acquire the financial product, as it contains a description of the product features, risks and benefits, and information about your cooling-off rights (if applicable). You should read and understand the PDS prior to making a decision about any product. If you have any questions, these should be raised with your financial advisor.

There may be circumstances where we provide advice that is not based upon your own personal circumstances, needs and objectives. This may be treated as General Advice, and you need to consider its appropriateness in light of your personal circumstances before acting on the advice. Information about any fees or remuneration applicable to the General Advice can be requested by you. If any particular product is mentioned, a copy of its PDS should be obtained by you and considered by you before making any decision.

If you instruct us to arrange a transaction without obtaining our advice, we may be able to deal in or arrange those products by carrying out your instructions on an execution-only basis. If you do not obtain advice, you face the risk that the financial product/s you select will not take into account your objectives, financial situation or needs, and we are not liable for any losses that are incurred from carrying out your instructions on the basis the financial product was not appropriate, or where you have declined to act in accordance with our advice.

How can you give us instructions?

You may instruct us by telephone, in writing, or email using the contact details on page 1 of this document. We may not act upon written or email instructions without verbal confirmation. Similarly, we may write to you confirming the substance of a verbal instruction prior to taking action.

It is common for scammers to impersonate financial institutions and intermediaries such as financial advisors to obtain access to your money, for instance by providing fraudulent email instructions to transfer funds into an incorrect account. Please contact us immediately if you ever wish to verify the authenticity of an email you receive purporting to be from a product issuer or from us.

A separately managed account (SMA) is an account where a responsible entity, based on advice from a professional investment manager, can make investment decisions on a client's portfolio and transact on those decisions without requiring the client's express consent each time. Our fees

The fees which you pay for financial advice are separate to fees which are paid to the product issuers. It is important that you fully understand the types of fees and costs, and the total cost borne by you, on an annual basis.

If the remuneration (including commission) or other benefits are calculable at the time personal advice is given, the remuneration (including commission) or other benefits the person receives on specific financial products to which the personal advice relates will be disclosed at the time the personal advice is given or as soon as practicable after that time. If not, the manner in which the remuneration (including commission) or other benefits are to be calculated will be disclosed at the time the personal advice is given or as soon as practicable after that time.

Initial advice fee

A fee may be payable for the preparation of our written financial advice. Our advice fees typically range from $4,400 to $22,000 and are based upon the complexity of your relevant circumstances and the advice required to address your needs and objectives.

Implementation fee

Should you accept our recommendations, we may charge an implementation fee to cover the time taken to implement your strategy, which may include liaising with your existing financial product issuers, arranging for new products to be opened on your behalf, facilitating rollovers, contributions or transfers. This typically ranges fee from $1,100 to $11,000.

Ongoing services

The benefit of receiving personal financial advice often comes from the ongoing relationship that you establish with your financial advisor, so that your financial strategy and products are regularly reviewed against the markets and changes to your circumstances or goals.

The fees for our ongoing services typically range from $4,400 to $200,000 or 1.10% per annum depending on upon the complexity of your situation.

For example: If your portfolio balance was $500,000, the annual advice and service fee would be $5,500.

A separate service agreement will be provided with your Statement of Advice, which will detail the services to be provided, and the costs.

If your advisor considers ongoing services are necessary to keep your financial plan tracking to achieve your goals, the level of service, and fees payable, will be discussed and will apply if agreed by you in writing.

Execution-only or Ad-hoc fees

If you require additional services that are not covered by any of the fees scheduled above, we will advise you if fees apply, and obtain your authorisation to act prior to proceeding.

Insurance Commissions

Initial and ongoing commissions from insurance providers may be received by us. These commissions are paid to us by the insurance company if you acquire the cover we recommend. The value of the commissions are included in the cost of what you pay for the insurance and are not an additional cost to you. The commissions we receive will be disclosed in your Statement of Advice with our recommendations. In some circumstances, these may be used to offset the cost of our advice fees.

MOORE

The initial commission is paid at the commencement of the insurance policy by the product issuer to us. Ongoing commissions are payments paid by product issuers to us after the commencement of the insurance policy.

If you initiate an increase to your cover (resulting in an increase in the cost of premium payable by you to the insurance company), we may receive a further initial commission and an increase in the receipt of ongoing commissions on the value of the annual increase to your policy cost.

Policies in place prior to 1 January 2020 - Upfront commission of up to 130% on the first year's premium, and ongoing commission of up to 33% on the renewal premium.

Policies put into place after 1 January 2020 - Upfront commission of 66% on the first year's premium, and ongoing commission of 22% on the renewal premium.

Where we recommend the use of a level commission arrangement, we will receive up to 33% of your annual insurance premium.

For example: On insurance policies implemented from 1 January 2020, if your insurance premium was $1,000, we would receive an initial commission of up to $660. We would receive an ongoing commission of up to $220 pa.
